Gentlemen,

I would like to thank you and your staff for the excellent professional support I have received during my stay with you. If I gain nothing else from you but the ability and confidence to survive in the world, my stay with Advantage Tech will have been most worthwhile.

Peter's coaching and mentoring and Sam's courses provided me with the abilities to produce professional documents that are eye catching and succinct. My abilities to telemarket and network were also developed. As well, Peter encouraged me to grow and expand my scope of thought. He provided me with the self worth and confidence to start looking for opportunities in many different places and yet keep realistic expectations.

One of the major underpinnings which allow the growth to happen, are the physical facilities and support staff provided. Professional documents are possible because of the computer and copying facilities, knowledgeable and courteous support staff answer phones and help with document production, the offices provide both a work area and a feeling of self worth, and all the staff generally provide a pleasant and upbeat atmosphere to work in. A resource library provides leads on where and what to look for. Financial concerns are also looked after and counseling received on the best use of this scarce resource. All are a tremendous plus in that levels of stress are reduced at a critical time.

Sincerely, thank you.
